Youth Drowns While On Outing At Henderson Point

Frederick Emmett McChesney, a 15-year-old Piquette youngster, was a victim of "accidental drowning" Sunday morning while on a beach outing with his family at Henderson Point. A search party, composed of officers and volunteers, found the body at 11:30 a.m. Monday, about 17 1/2 hours after the boy had stepped into a deep hole while wading off shore. He was the son of Rudolph J. McChesney and Mrs. Dorothy Strangway McChesney, parents of five other children. The family has been living in Piquette about 18 months after moving from Madison, Wis. The verdict of "accidental drowning" was returned by a jury empaneled by Harrison County Coroner Frank High-tower Monday afternoon at Riemann's Funeral Home in Gulfport. Sylvester Pagano, a resident of Henderson Point and a volunteer searcher, told the jury of discovering the child's body in about 12 feet of water. He said that the body was found in approximately the same spot that the child went down, about 1500 feet off the sand beach.

CONGRESS MACHINERY NEEDS STREAMLINING

By Cong. William Colmer

Last week during the consideration by the House of various streamlining proposals—all laudable in themselves—made bold to suggest that the Congress might well get its own house in order while trying to get everything else in order. The proposals before the House at the time were bills to set up a new Hoover Commission to be called the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government and to establish a Commission on Intergovernmental Relations. The first would have as its objectives the elimination of duplication and overlapping of services and the abolishing of non-essential functions of the Federal Government. The second was designed to go into the question of Federal and State relations, to study the proper role of each, and to attempt to define the responsibilities to be assumed by the Federal Government and those more properly left to the State or local government. The objectives of both were good. But the Executive Branch is not alone in needing a streamlining of its procedures. The Congress is still using the machinery set up in the early days to appropriate money. Until this year at least the appropriations committees, because of lack of expert staffs, were at the mercy of the Executive Department. The committees had a limited number of clerks, who were able and conscientious, but who could not possibly know the ramifications of a particular request for funds and were in search for the experts sent down by the departments to justify their requests. In an effort to correct that situation, we passed last year with Senator McClellan of Arkansas in sponsoring legislation to set up a Joint Committee on the Budget to provide the appropriations committee of both houses with expert research and counsel, and with request for funds. The bill passed the House overwhelmingly, but in the Senate the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee and the Senate Minority Member opposed the proposal on the ground that it invaded the prerogative of the House to originate all appropriations. Actually, there is no real issue here. The bill is a matter of fact it was introduced in favor of the House; it was a House bill. The House members could not have held their own under such a proposal as an admission of an inferiority complex. We are not ready to make the House of Representatives a mere rubber stamp of the Executive branch. The House is a co-equal branch of the Government. The House is a co-equal branch of the Government. The House is a co-equal branch of the Government.

INCREASE IN USE OF FREE FACILITIES IS REPORTED BY LEGION

An increased use of the Legion's many free facilities has been reported by Frank Taconi, chairman of the Club Committee of the American Legion. Operation of the Legion Club has been "received with warmth" by many local citizens and out of town visitors, Taconi said. "Convenience, popular prices and a friendly welcome are credited with this gain."

The Legion's public pier is used continuously from early morning until well after sunset as many people enjoy the cool breeze, boat, swim, fish or crab. Daily reports of fine catches of fish being made at the end of the pier are being made. Also many baskets of crabs are brought from the pier each day. Swimmers find the Legion's quarter-mile pier a great convenience in reaching deep water. The Legion's clean free public rest rooms are a welcome convenience to the many visitors.

Clean-up efforts are expected to bring results in the next few days. It is the Legion's hope to eliminate all the grass and weeds from its beach property, extending a clean sand beach to the water's edge. Cooperation by county officials is expected in this project. The American Legion is pleased to note that its many free facilities for the public are being used and that its efforts to provide these facilities are appreciated.

SEEPAGE CONTROL, BEACH SHELTER HUTS PARK COMMISSION AIM

The Parks and Playgrounds Commission is advertising for sealed bids on installation of a drainage system to prevent seepage back of the seawall on the northwest side of the sand beach at the head of Uman and Carroll avenues. Erection of shelter huts on the beach also is part of the plan for improving this strip of beach, which is a popular playground for both natives and visitors.

TWO PERISH IN FLAMES AFTER HIWAY CRASH

Two men were burned to death in the fiery aftermath of a collision between a lumber truck and an automobile on Highway 90 bridge near the Louisiana-Mississippi state line about 2 p.m. Tuesday. One of the victims was tentatively identified as Sam Hayes, about 40, an operator for the French Jordan and White Fishing Tool Service, Inc., Piquette Road, Harvey, La.

The other was identified by state police as Guy Marshall Underwood, about 35, Pearl River. The head-on crash occurred on the east end of the Pearl River Bridge about one and one-half miles west of the Louisiana-Mississippi boundary. The two drivers, the only occupants of the vehicles, were pinned in the wreckage and burned to death after the automobile's gasoline tank reportedly exploded.

Clashed beyond recognition, the bodies were taken to the Piquette Funeral Home in Sides, La. Dr. F. R. Singleton, St. Tammany parish coroner, examined the bodies at the funeral home and said deaths of the two men resulted from the burns they suffered in the accident.

William Gaudet, president of Latin American Reports, Inc., said the lumber truck was owned by the Stovall Lumber Co. of Shidell. Gaudet, en route to New Orleans from his summer home in Waveland, passed the scene shortly after the accident.

Tentative identification of Hayes came from the car's license number—La. 58874. Police reported that the license was issued to the French Jordan and White firm.

F. M. Jordan, firm president, said the firm's car was in the possession of Hayes, who had gone to Chef Menteur, La., last Friday to do a job for the Texas Company near Chef Menteur. Jordan said Hayes resided at Fourth and Amelia, Gretna, La., with his wife and two children.

Gaudet said the car, headed east, apparently went out of control and skidded some 40 feet before striking the left side of the oncoming truck. Impact spun the car around in the opposite direction and it wound up on the other side of the truck, he said. Gaudet added that the car appeared to have instantly burst into flames, showering the truck with flaming gasoline. Both men were trapped in the vehicles and burned while horrified motorists looked on helplessly, he said. Both vehicles were destroyed by the fire, but a quantity of the lumber aboard the truck was saved, Gaudet said.

Applications Are Being Accepted For Housing Unit

Applications are now being taken at the Housing Authority office for admission in the white and colored units now under construction, it was announced this week. The project is scheduled to be completed by September 1, but George Heitzmann, director, said there is a strong possibility that some units may be ready for occupancy by August 1. Two months advance is necessary for application prior to opening. Next week, the director said, rental rates and maximum wage earnings permitted occupants will be listed, so that interested persons will have detailed information regarding qualifications required to procure housing accommodations through the project.

The Hancock County "Miss Hospitality" contest will be held Saturday, June 13 at Hotel Reed, starting at 6:30 p. m.

The change in locale from the Bay Waveland Yacht Club was made by the Contest Committee of the Bay Lions Club, sponsors of the event, on account of the many requests received from the general public to see the crowning of the 1953 "Miss Hospitality." The Yacht Club, in offering the use of their Club, had stated that they were unable to accommodate a large crowd in addition to their regular Saturday evening dinner guests, so the use of Hotel Reed was accepted. Contestants and secret judges will assemble at 6:30 p. m. and will have dinner at 7:00. The six contestants and the judges will be guests of the Lions Club.

Contestants' families, friends, sponsors, their guests and any other interested citizens also may join the gathering at the Hotel Reed. The management of the hotel has announced that a $1.50 dinner will be served that evening to all who desire to attend. For those who do not care to have dinner at the hotel, ample space is provided for the ceremony's conclusion, which will culminate at 8:40 p.m. with the crowning of the local winner by Warren Carver, Mayor of Bay St. Louis.

Out-of-county judges will have two hours in which to decide, which young lady possesses the greatest amount of personality and friendliness and make the nicest appearance. The girls will wear evening dresses, and will appear in just one costume. The winner selected Saturday night will receive a $500 check from the entry fees, to go toward the purchase of a new gown for her Jackson appearance. The local Miss Hospitality will be in the state contest, starting on July 16, 17, and 18 and ending with the selection of the State Winner in Biloxi on July 19. The six contestants and their sponsors are:

Miss Geraldine Anne Martin, American Legion; Elizabeth Jane Vassalli, Chamber of Commerce; Mary Ellen Green, Hancock County Eagle; Irma Joan Lee, Lions Club; Dolores Violet Carver, Rotary Club; and Cherrie Ann Green, Sea Coast Echo.

HOLLEMAN IS SWORN IN AS D. A. SAT.

Boyce Holleman, 29-year-old Wiggins attorney, Saturday was sworn in as District Attorney of the Mississippi Second Circuit District which is comprised of five coastal state counties including Hancock County.

The brief informal ceremony was conducted at 9:20 a. m. at the Harrison county courthouse in Gulfport with Circuit Clerk Ewart G. Lindsay officiating.

Holleman presented his commission of office, signed by Gov. Hugh L. White and Secretary of State Hubert L. Ladner. The commission, stating in part that "it appears by the returns received at the office of the Secretary of State as modified and confirmed by the certificate of the District Court of Pearl River County as provided by law that Boyce Holleman is duly and constitutionally elected to the office of District Attorney, Second Circuit Court District," was signed June 3.

The commission was finally issued Friday afternoon, after Circuit Judge Sebe Dale in Poplarville declared final a jury verdict which declared Holleman winner of the March 11 special election in the Second District.

Last Tuesday the jury, choosing an eight-day election, found Holleman to have defeated the greater number of "legal" votes in the election.

Judge Dale's action Friday came as a surprise to many, as the time passed for the election hearing, reported by Attorney O. Leavelle, showed Holleman to have won the election. The judgment is still subject to appeal in the Mississippi Supreme Court.

A hearing on the appeal by Leavelle was set for Monday at Poplarville. The hearing will be held at the Poplarville courthouse. The hearing will be held at the Poplarville courthouse. The hearing will be held at the Poplarville courthouse.

LEGION URGES FLAGS BE DISPLAYED AS HOLIDAYS APPROACH

"Let's make every street of every city and community of the State of Mississippi an avenue of flags!" That was the appeal made today by The American Legion with the approach of two great national holidays—Flag Day on June 14 and Independence Day on July 4.

"The flag of the United States is the symbol of our liberty and progress," said Department Commander R. E. (Bob) Thompson. "Of course, we should be proud to fly the flag every day, but on these special patriotic holidays—Flag Day and the Fourth of July—it should be flown from every building, in front of every home and business firm, along every street."

"Legionnaires of Mississippi," the Commander said, "consider it their sacred obligation to encourage proper display of the Stars and Stripes by the citizens of their communities." The American Legion also urged that special programs be conducted throughout the State so that the citizens may be properly told the story of the flag and what it stands for. Commander Thompson has requested the cooperation of church, school and civic leaders with The American Legion in the patriotic observances.
